Hungarian Reds Execute Nagy, 3 of His Aides

VIENNA (AP) — Communist Hungary has executed two leaders of the Soviet-crushed Hungarian revolt in October 1956, former Premier Imre Nagy and Defense Minister Pal Maleter.

The executions of Nagy, Maleter and two lesser figures in the popular uprising against Communist rule plus prison sentences for five others were announced today.

Moscow broke the word first in what looked to Vienna observers like the start of a new Kremlin purge of Titoists in the satellites seeking some independence from Moscow's domination. Foreign diplomats in Belgrade viewed the execution of Nagy as a direct Kremlin slap at Yugoslavia. Budapest radio said Nagy and Maleter refused to make full confessions to the people's court bench of the Supreme Court, which tried them secretly in Budapest. The dates of the trial and of the executions were not told.

ALL NINE were charged with "organization of a plot aimed at overthrowing" the Hungarian government. Nagy also was convicted of "betraying the motherland" and Maleter of "organizing a military uprising."

Budapest radio said Nagy Maleter and Jozsef Szilagyi denied the charges "but later under the weight of incriminating evidence they made partial confessions." Szilagyi and Miklos Gimes were Communist journalists executed with Nagy and Maleter.

The most prominent of the five men sentenced to prison was Zoltan Tildy, Hungary's first post-war president, who was given 5 to 12 years.

Others imprisoned were Col-Sandor Kopacsy, an aide to Maleter in the uprising; Ferenc Donath, a supporter of Nagy during the revolt; Ferenc Janosi, a son-in-law of Nagy; and Miklos Vasarhelyi, a former editor of the Communist paper Szabad Nep.

Kopacsy was given life imprisonment, the others 5-12 years.

Nagy had been a Hungarian Communist since he was 21. He worked his way up through party ranks with the help of training in the Soviet Union. He was a vice premier under tough, Stalinist Premier Matyas Rakosi.

After Stalin died in 1953 and Georgi Malenkov introduced a new look in Moscow, Rakosi resigned and Nagy was premier for two years. He followed the Malenkov line of trying to make life easier for the masses. But when Nikita Khrushchev dumped Malenkov in 1955, Nagy and his soft line soon were replaced by another tough Hungarian regime.

This tough regime fathered the revolt on Oct. 23, 1956. The people remembered Nagy as a friend and he became premier again.

Senate Nearing OK on Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate went into a fifth day of debate on the bitterly fought labor control bill today with final passage now in sight.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the bill, lost his first floor fight on an amendment Monday. But he appeared to be in position to keep the bill largely to their liking.

Over Kennedy's opposition, the Senate voted 66-20 to require both employers and union officials to file non-Communist affidavits before they can use the National Labor Relations Board.

Ohio GOPsters Ponder Adams

3 Congressmen See End of Usefulness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio House Republicans said today Sherman Adams' usefulness as top White House aide is ended if information about his accepting favors is correct.

The statements were made by Reps. William E. Minshall, Clarence J. Brown and David A. Baumhart Jr.

Minshall said: "If the facts as reported in the public press are not satisfactorily explained, Sherman Adams has betrayed his public trust and should separate himself from the government."

Brown said: "If all the charges are true, then Mr. Adams has been very indiscreet, to say the least, and his value to the administration seems to have been destroyed."

Baumhart, a former executive director of the National Republican Committee, said: "I campaigned against mink coats and deep-freezes and I'm just as critical when this happens in my own party."

A fourth Ohio Republican, Rep. William Hess, said he, too, thought Adams had been indiscreet but that it was too early to make a final judgment.

SEN. JOHN W. BRICKER, who is up for reelection, said he didn't want to say anything.

Others willing to talk, like Rep. David Dennison, John E. Henderson and William H. Ayres, said they wanted to see more facts before expressing an opinion.

"I have never and I do not know anyone influence peddling in official circles," Dennison said. "But with respect to the charges against Adams, I think it improper to prejudge the facts as given."

Henderson said: "I don't know whether what I have heard is true. So I'm not going to prejudge a fellow in the storm he is caught in right now."

Ayres compared Adams' activities to neckties just given to every member of Congress, some reporters and the White House by a New Orleans tie manufacturer in honor of Father's Day.

"Of course, I'm going to keep my tie," Ayres reported.

Five Indicted By Grand Jury; One Dismissed

Bond of $50,000 Set for Man Held On Rape Charge

The five men indicted by the Fayette County grand jury Monday will be arraigned in Common Pleas Court here at 10 a. m. Monday.

No indictment was returned in the sixth case considered by the grand jury—the one in which Kermit Smith, 30, of 523 E. Fifth St., was accused of "maliciously shooting," at Mrs. Lee Grooms in her home on the Allen Rd. near Octa.

One of the five indicted was Joseph Earl Gardner, 27, of 425 Forest St., charged with rape of a 10-year-old girl. Immediately after his indictment, Judge John P. Case of Common Pleas Court raised Gardner's bond from $5,000 to $50,000.

Prior to his indictment, Gardner had been under the jurisdiction of Judge Max G. Dice of Municipal Court, which bound him over to the grand jury.

THE HONEYMOON of Edward Johnson, 32, of 422 Grove Ave., will be delayed at least a while yet by the grand jury's action. Johnson, married in jail to Mildred Alice Pendergraft May 27, was indicted for passing a forged $47 check at the Fayette St. Grocery.

Others indicted besides Johnson and Gardner, were:

Paul Hurler, 31, of near Washington C. H., and Richard Gilpin, 29, of New Holland, both for breaking and entering a tool house on the Frank Swan property, Miami Trace Rd., May 1;

Charles Maynard, 18, South Charleston, for passing two forged checks on the Milledgeville Bank of Jeffersonville.

THE GRAND JURY deliberated from 9 a. m. until 1:45 p. m. The special session was held to speed trial of the accused men who were in jail, and thus saving the county board bills.

Witnesses heard were Victor Rohde, W. E. Davis, Frank Swan, Lawrence Mickle, Mrs. Cleon Coe, Marvin Stockwell, Lester Grooms, Dr. James Rose, Roy Baber, Anna Combs, Lee Grooms, Kenneth Grooms, Don Thompson, Luella Gardner and Charles Hays.

Grand Jurors are O. L. Ohnstad, foreman, Charlotte Willis, H. S. Bobo, Bruce King Jr., Leone Butcher, William H. Hastings, Nora Bentley, James Shoemaker, J. Price Neff, Rollo Gray, J. Franklin Patton, Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall, Mrs. Dora Evans, Mrs. Charles Funk and H. M. Blue.

Thug's Widow Finally Freed From Prison

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "We hope for a new life," said Mrs. Kathryn Kelly Monday night just before she and her mother walked out of the Federal Building for the first time in 25 years.

"I think we'll find it," the widow of George (Machine-gun) Kelly and Mrs. Ora Shannon, 70, had life sentences set aside Monday and new trials ordered on their convictions in the sensational $200,000 kidnaping of millionaire Oklahoma City oilman Charles Urschel.

"Mr. Kelly was an atheist. When I married him, I drifted from the church. But in prison, I returned. I thank God for this."

"Now," said Mrs. Kelley, 54, "I want to get a job in Oklahoma and take care of my mother."

Signing of the papers that released the women came late Monday night, nearly a quarter century after their conviction in the same courthouse. An aunt and a friend put up $40,000 in property, as required by federal law, for the $100,000 bonds set on each by U. S. Dist. Judge R. Wallace.

Wallace ordered the convictions nullified and new trials when U. S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers refused to release secret FBI files. The defense said these records would back up claims by the women that their original defense attorneys were intimidated by the FBI during the 1933 trials.

Adams Admits Prudence Weak in Goldfine Case

Board Agrees To Reassign Prin. Blosser

Old Eastside School Property To Be Offered for Sale July 19

The old Eastside School and the approximately 1.7 acres on which it stands at the junction of Willard St. and Columbus Ave. will be offered for sale at public auction on the premises at 2 p. m. July 19.

The date for the sale was set by the Washington C. H. Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The resolution specified, however, that the sale should be made on condition that the purchaser will not be given possession until after the new schools, now under construction, are completed and ready for occupancy.

This provision, it was explained, is a precautionary measure against possible complications which might delay the construction schedule.

The board has been given assurance by The Sever-Williams Construction Co. that the buildings will be completed by the opening of school on Sept. 2.

The board also included a provision that it reserves the right to reject any and all bids and agreed that it should get a secret appraisal, which it would use as a guide in accepting or rejecting bids.

THE BOARD also reaffirmed the teacher salary schedule adopted at the May 27 meeting. The schedule ranges from $3,100 a year for teachers with less than three years of experience up to $5,465 a year for teachers holding a masters, or above, degree, who have had at least 11 years of experience.

It approved the schedule for "extra pay for extra assigned duties."

Athletic director $500; head football coach $500 - $600; assistant football coach $350; faculty manager $350; ticket manager $200; head basketball coach $500 - $600; reserve basketball coach $250; junior high basketball coach $200; track coach $150; baseball coach $150; golf coach $75; tennis coach $75; instrumental music supervisor $300; high school vocal music supervisor $400; driver training instructor $150; dramatics $250; Sunburst advisor $150; dean of boys $300; dean of girls $300; elementary music supervisor $350; elementary principals $600.

THE BOARD, by a vote of three to two, granted the request of N. Kaye Blosser, high school principal last year, for reassignment as a teacher. Stanley Dray and Robert Terhune dissented; Elmer N. Reed, Milbourne Flee and Charles Pensyl voted to grant his request.

The reassignment had been recommended by Superintendent W. A. Smith, who told the board Blosser was qualified to teach industrial arts as well as academic subjects. A definite assignment was not made at this meeting, however.

The board at its June 13 meeting approved a $500 raise to bring Blosser's salary as principal up to $7,500 a year, but Smith told the board he had said Monday morning that he preferred reassignment as a teacher.

The board also had made provision at the June 13 meeting for Edwin Nestor to spend three periods a day as assistant principal; the rest of the day was to be devoted to classroom teaching.

The board's approval of Blosser's reassignment, left the high school principal position open along with two other positions on the high school teaching staff. The superintendent was instructed to try to secure some applicants and submit their names and qualifications.

Ike Also on List For Goldfine Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House acknowledged today that industrialist Bernard Goldfine once gave President Eisenhower a supply of expensive vicuna cloth.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower gave the material to a friend. Hagerty added the President does not remember the name of the friend.

Hagerty called a special news conference to discuss the matter just ahead of an appearance by Sherman Adams, the President's chief aide, to tell a congressional committee under oath about his own relations with Goldfine.

The press secretary discussed an article by Drew Pearson which reported that Eisenhower had received a vicuna coat from Goldfine.

Hagerty denied the story as to the coat, but conceded the gift of cloth.

HE SAID Eisenhower does have two vicuna coats, one of which he has had since the middle 1940s; the other acquired about 1952. The press secretary did not go into detail on how Eisenhower obtained them.

Hagerty then said it is true that along about November 1956 Goldfine did send the President some vicuna material.

Hagerty said that Eisenhower thanked Goldfine for the vicuna material, as well as for nice things Goldfine had said about the President and his administration.

Asked why Eisenhower accepted the material, Hagerty replied that all presidents receive gifts from people.

"That's just a lie," Hagerty said with reference to a Pearson statement that Adams used an airline credit card on one of Goldfine's companies.

To Pearson's statement that Adams received several rugs from Goldfine, Hagerty said that "is also a lie."

In testimony later this morning before House probers, Adams said he had received a rug from Goldfine but considers the rug still to be Goldfine's property.

Hagerty also described as another lie Pearson's statement that Adams received a considerable amount of furniture from Goldfine for Adams' Washington home.

Asked whether this meant that Adams had received no furniture from Goldfine, Hagerty replied: "That is what Mr. Adams told me."

Vicuna Coats Put on Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — Men's vicuna coats, a feature of the Sherman Adams-Bernard Goldfine investigation, went on sale today at R. H. Macy's department store.

The price $299. "Usually $399," said the ad which also informed: "It takes the shearing of approximately 1,200 Peruvian goats to make one coat like these."

Ohio's Recent Heavy Rains Hard on Many State Crops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Recent heavy rains destroyed from 20 to 35 per cent of Ohio's hay crop.

Dr. James R. Hay, state agriculture director, said today "all over the state our reports show 20 to 35 per cent of the hay was cut when the heavy rains came and is a total loss."

He blamed Friday's deluge for most of the damage which throughout the state is spotty. He said that in the west and southwest, there was flooding, crop loss in the bottom lands is complete.

Dr. Hay gave this summary of the damage:

Central Ohio (South of Columbus)—about 10 per cent of corn crop damaged, 10 per cent of soy bean crop damaged and 30 per cent of hay crop damaged. (North of Columbus)—little damage to corn, beans and wheat but 25 to 30 per cent damage to hay.

Northern Ohio—Not much damage except 30 per cent of hay crop in Marion and Upper Sandusky regions. In Tiffin area, five per cent of corn, 5 per cent of beans and 30 per cent of hay lost.

Northwest Ohio—20 to 25 per cent of hay crop lost but other crops in good shape. Some damage in Van Wert area but water receding.

Northeast Ohio—Damage confined to about 20 per cent of hay crops, most other crops all right.

Southeast Ohio—Damage confined to 20 per cent of hay crop. Some stream overflow but not many crops involved. No information available for the Marietta area.

Southern Ohio—Corn and soy bean damage in Ashville, Lockbourne, Circleville and Chillicothe areas ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. Hay damage from 20 to 30 per cent.

Southwestern Ohio—From 20 to 30 per cent of hay crop in Fayette-Clinton county area.

Western and rest of southwestern Ohio—(Dayton, Middletown, Eaton, Hamilton area)—Average damage corn 15 per cent, beans 12 per cent, wheat 10 per cent, hay 30 per cent, tobacco 5 per cent and tomatoes from 15 to 25 per cent. Miami and Stillwater River Valley areas show lightest percentage of overflow damage.

His Experience Said Lacking

Ignorance of Federal Regulations Claimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sherman Adams testified today that if he had had more experience he believed he would have acted a little more prudently in making inquiries on behalf of his friend Bernard Goldfine.

President Eisenhower's top aide, sometimes called the assistant president, pleaded too that he was ignorant of the rules and regulations when told that both the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission violated them in response to his inquiries about Goldfine's affairs.

Adams swore to a House subcommittee that he never sought any improper favors for Goldfine, a Boston industrialist who made gifts to him and Eisenhower.

Adams, 59, has been in government much of his adult life. He had served in the House and been governor of New Hampshire before moving into the administration when Eisenhower took office.

Just before he left the stand, Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) ask Adams whether, in view of all that had been brought out, "You think that in these instances you may have overstepped the bounds of propriety?"

ADAMS REPLIED that in retrospect "I think a greater measure of prudence would have obviated some of the questions before your committee - I cannot wholly disagree with some of the implications in your question."

Adams was one of those critical of what the Republicans called the "mess in Washington" when they campaigned for a "clean-as-a-hound's-tooth" government under Eisenhower.

Subcommittee Counsel Robert Lishman said a law violation stemmed from a telephone inquiry Adams had made in 1954 about an FTC investigation of a Goldfine mill for alleged misbranding of the content of a fabric.

As a result of the call, Lishman said, Goldfine learned the name of a complainant and also that the matter might be settled if the mill would agree to change its labels. He said that giving this information to Goldfine was in violation of law and regulations.

ADAMS COMMENTED:

"So far as I am concerned, he got information supplied by the responsible official. I made no special request. I am ignorant of the rules and regulations of the commission. I had assumed that what he got he was entitled to under rules and regulations."

Under questioning then, Adams testified that he had known of the rules, "my decision might have been different" in interceding with the FTC for Goldfine.

In earlier testimony, Adams had acknowledged he had received a rug and a coat from Goldfine and let the textile magnate pay hotel bills for him in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass.

But he said the rug, which reputedly cost $2,400, was only lent to him, and he depreciated the value of the coat. Adams said he had checked and the coat material cost the industrialist's mill about $69.

The total of the hotel bills, as developed in testimony before the committee, was something in excess of $2,000.

As to his contacts with federal agencies in relation to Goldfine's affairs, Adams said they gave the industrialist no benefit that he could not have received had he gone directly to the agency involved "and he and I had been complete strangers."

Adams came before the committee with a 1,500-word prepared statement, but frequently departed from a reading of it to fire off-the-cuff remarks.

In one of these, he tossed squarely back to Congress the question whether an official who makes an inquiry or sets up an appointment for a friend is behaving improperly.

"Is there any member of this Congress who has not made a phone call for a constituent?" Adams asked. "Is there any member of Congress who has not made an appointment for some constituent who found himself concerned with some activity of the government?"

"Is there any member of Congress willing to stand and say that (Please Turn to Page Two)

Dairymen Plan Training Clinic

Will Ready 4-H's For County Fair

The Fayette County Dairy Directors at their monthly meeting held Monday night in the Extension Office, decided to conduct the second annual county-wide dairy training Monday, June 30 at 7 p. m. The meeting, for all 4-H dairy club members, will be held at the Frank Dill farm, Creek Road.

The 4-H's will be given instruction on feeding, grooming, and showing of their dairy animals in preparation for the Fayette County Fair. Two classes of Holstein cows will be judged by the club members. The Dairy Board decided to serve refreshments at the close of the June 30 meeting.

Rex Bloomer, director from Paint Township had a "milk-o-meter" the only approved instrument for calculating milk weight and taking samples for dairy records from a pipeline milker with him at the meeting. Bloomer reported that the instrument, which is manufactured in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, sells for approximately $160. It has been tested and approved by several state universities.

Dale Smith, COBA technician, reported that as of June 1, Fayette County ranked third in the state in percentage of cows bred by artificial insemination. He reported that Fayette is only .6 of a percent from first place in percentage of cows bred to COBA sires.

Considerable discussion was devoted to the Fair display, which is provided by COBA and is erected by the Fayette County Dairy Board. This year's display, which promotes artificial insemination, is centered around the 30 important reasons why farmers should use COBA sires. Since the next regular board meeting will be July 21, it was decided that it would be held at the Fairgrounds and that the directors would erect the COBA display.

Charles Gibeau presided over the meeting.

School Board

tions to the board when it meets Monday night.

RESIGNATIONS of three teachers were "accepted with regret." They were from Mr. and Mrs. Jack White and Miss Lorraine La-dry.

White, who has been dean of boys in the high school, said he had accepted a position as guidance director in the Norwalk schools. Mrs. White has been the high school home economics teacher. The position of dean of boys in the high school here was abolished as a part of the board's economy program following defeat of the levy proposal at the May primary. Miss Landry, who came here from Louisiana last February as the sixth grade teacher in the Church of Christ emergency room, said in her letter of resignation that she is returning to her former position.

The board voted to renew for July, August and September the contract of Charles McGriff, instructor for the Veterans' Institutional - on - the - Farm program, for $427.77 a month. (His salary is paid from tuition paid by his students.) The class now has an enrollment of 20; the minimum to support his salary was set at "around 17."

The board approved raising substitute salaries from $14 a day to $16 a day and authorized the superintendent to enter into a contract with the Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. for repairs to the furnace at the Cherry Hill School costing $471, and repairs to the furnace at the Rose Avenue School, costing $159.

The superintendent told the board that more substitute teachers are needed and suggested that they refer any qualified for the work to him. He said he would have a list of substitute teachers for the board at its July meeting.

Payment of $8,466 to Geiger Brothers for plumbing and heating work completed in the new buildings; of $58,660.20 to Sever-Williams for general construction and electrical work completed; of $3,000.70 to The Tibbets Plumbing and Heating Co. for work completed on the high school boilers; and of $6,530.40 to The Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. for work completed at the Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill additions was authorized.

The board set June 25 for the opening of bids on janitorial equipment.

Solons Seek Accord on Space Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House strategists start maneuvering today for a compromise on rival versions of a bill to set up a new civilian space agency.

The Senate overrode a recommendation of President Eisenhower in voting Monday to create a National Aeronautics and Space Agency headed by a seven member board.

Eisenhower, in seeking the legislation, proposed the new agency be headed by a single director working with a strictly advisory board to play and control space age programs for peaceful civilian purposes. The House, in passing its version of the bill earlier this month, generally followed that recommendation.

The bill now goes back to the House, which is expected to agree quickly to a conference committee to work out the differences.

Under the Senate version the seven man policy-making board would include the secretaries of state and defense, the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the director of NASA, and three other members from interested government agencies to be appointed by the President.

ment and June 30 open bids on furniture and equipment.

The board instructed Smith to register a protest to the application of the Paul H. Hughes post, American Legion, for a C-2 permit for wine and beer carryout "as a matter of board policy."

Supt. Smith reported that the school census showed 2,533 children from 5 to 18 years old in Washington C. H. The census listed 36 of them as handicapped.

The superintendent also told the board that negotiations for the removal of two dead trees on the Cherry Hill ground are under way. The comment was in reply to Pen-syl, who said a resident of Mill-wood had asked him to bring to the attention of the board the danger to children playing under the trees.

Payment of 71 bills and payroll amounting to a total $47,583.26 was authorized. The payroll of $35,128.82 was the biggest single item.

A motion reaffirming the board's stand favoring participation in and approval of the school survey with Kent State University as the survey agency, made by Terhune at the May 13 meeting and tabled without a vote, was withdrawn by Terhune just before Monday night's meeting was adjourned.

Terhune explained that he withdrew his motion because he had learned that the survey, authorized by the state Department of Education, could be made for $7,500. The Washington C. H. board has authorized participation in the cost of the survey to the extent of $2,500, its proportionate share of the cost on the basis of the $7,500 estimate.

The meeting was adjourned to meet again in adjourned session next Monday night to consider the annual budget.

Paul Shepard of the Waterloo Rd. and Maryon Yeoman of the Yeoman Rd. attended the meeting. They declined President Reed's invitation to address the board.

His Experience

by reason of that appointment or activity his vote was affected on any public question?"

As for his relations with the wealthy Goldfine, Adams told the House Subcommittee or Legislative Oversight:

"I can only say to this committee, with a clear conscience, that in the 5½ years that I have been at my post, I have never permitted any personal relationships to affect in any way any actions of mine in matters relating to the conduct of my office."

"If, on the contrary, I have in any way so conducted myself as to cast any semblance of doubt upon such conduct, I can only say that the error was one of judgment and not of intent."

Adams acknowledged Goldfine paid hotel bills for him at the plush Waldorf-Astoria in New York in addition to Boston hotel bills previously brought into testimony before the committee.

The investigators brought out that the New York hotel bills were paid about the time one of Goldfine's textile companies was in trouble before the Federal Trade Commission. The case was settled about the same time. There had been testimony about inquiries by Adams to the FTC about his friend's troubles there, but Adams has denied he used any influence.

Civil Service Pay Hike Bill Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed and sent to the White House a bill giving a 10 per cent pay raise to 1,021,000 Civil Service and other government workers. President Eisenhower is expected to sign it.

The pay hike will cost an estimated $542 million a year. Since it is retroactive to last Jan. 1, an estimated $250 million in back pay will be given to employees next month.

The President already this year has signed a bill giving a 10 per cent salary increase to about half a million postal workers.

Stock Mart Prices Push Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by selected industrials pushed the stock market ahead slightly early this afternoon.

The advance nudged the market further along into new high ground for the year and brought the average back to where it was early last September.

Leading stocks rose from fractions to well over a point. There were also small losses or unchanged prices. Some coppers went ahead. Most major steel-makers, as well as motors and some chemicals advanced. Oils, rails, rubbers and tobaccos were mixed.

U. S. Tobacco showed a loss of more than a point before it was trimmed slightly.

Chrysler advanced well over a point. General Motors and Ford rose fractionally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 10 cents to $175.00 with the industrials up 50 cents and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

U. S. government bonds were off in brisk transactions over the counter.

Convict Hits Jackpot with His Invention

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — A convict serving a 100-year term in Menard State Penitentiary stands to make a fortune from "Kongo Safari," a child's toy.

The toy was designed by Clyde Wagner, 42-year-old murderer.

Wagner has submitted 70 toy ideas to manufacturers. He holds 70 patents and since 1941 has invented more than 750 items, ranging from a new type cotter pin to jet aircraft. Five toys are in production.

His "Kongo Safari," a push-pull elephant train, was accepted by a manufacturer who reported that he displayed the toy at an industry show in New York this spring and received 700,000 orders.

Wagner's royalty is three cents on each toy. He could get $21,000 from this toy alone if 700,000 are sold.

He was convicted in 1937 for slaying an Alton, Ill., policeman during an argument. He won't be eligible to seek parole until he's served a third of his 100 - year term.

What would Wagner do with such a bundle of money?

He said he'd spend it to keep working on still other ideas.

"Getting patents, hiring people outside to build models, and all other things involved have eaten up everything I've made on the inventions I've sold," Wagner said. He didn't say how much money he's made thus far on his various toy designs and inventions.

He works as a vocational instructor in prison.

Continued Intensity of War on Crime

"The 1957 fiscal year witnessed a continuation of the record wave of lawlessness which has swept across the nation in the postwar period." That is the grim opening sentence of the latest annual report of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The story he has to tell is a sorry one. Each minute throughout the year nearly five major crimes were committed—and a homicide, rape or attempt to kill occurred about every four minutes. Crimes against property happened with record frequency. As a consequence, the demands upon the FBI and other law enforcement agencies were extremely heavy.

There is, however, a brighter side to the ledger. In fiscal 1957, 96.7 per cent of persons tried in federal court as a result of FBI investigations pled or were found guilty, and the number of such convictions reached a 10-year high of 11,218. This figure does not include a great number of other convictions obtained in state courts and based upon evidence gathered by the FBI.

The FBI has a wider range of responsibilities than, probably, is generally recognized, and it is frequently widened still farther by congressional legislation. In the past year, for instance, legislation gave the bureau new or extended jurisdiction in cases of kidnapping; the interstate transportation of stolen property; thefts from banking-type institutions; and malicious damage to aircraft or motor vehicles moving in interstate or foreign commerce.

Also, the FBI has the extremely important and delicate duty of protecting the civil rights and privileges of the people of this country. This is a field where misin-formation and controversy are apt to be rife. For a number of years the FBI held a series of civil rights schools for police organizations, and special agents of the bureau have made hundreds of lectures on the subject. The magnitude of the job is indicated by the fact that in fiscal 1957 1,289 preliminary investigations of civil rights allegations were investigated.

An increasingly important area of FBI responsibility is in the field of domestic intelligence. The purpose is to protect the internal security of the United States and to combat espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and related threats. And here Mr. Hoover's report has some significant things to say about the Communist Party, USA. Despite certain setbacks, he says that "a hard core consisting of thousands of dedicated Marxists in this country has clung to its un-American ideals and emerged into what it interprets as an atmosphere conducive to regrowth and attainment of its goals." The party's leaders, for the most part, have long established records of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence. It is dominated by directive from the Soviet Union. And the members "... have become experts at seeking refuge behind the very rights and privileges which they would destroy." In addition, the party has successfully devised various "front" groups which are used to dupe loyal citizens into supporting and promoting campaigns which will serve its ends in one way or another.

Mr. Hoover's report is brief, but well-documented and comprehensive. It shows that the war against crime, in all its manifold ramifications, must be waged more intensely with each passing year.

Beggars Prefer Fat Ladies

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That professional street beggars say fat ladies give more generously than slender ones because they are more sentimental.

That half the world's population doesn't wear shoes and has virtually no foot ailments.

That the Eskimos go in for the most advanced type of housing—waterproof igloos made of plastic foam.

That a survey of young housewives found that 92 per cent wanted ads in their newspapers, but 62 per cent would prefer TV without commercials.

That malaria, one of earth's greatest disease scourges, is rapidly being wiped out in the United States. Not a single case of locally acquired malaria has been reported here in the last three years. A decade ago 40,000 new cases were reported annually.

That one of the best ways to cut down evaporation from your storage tank is to paint it a light color—that is, if it is exposed to the sun.

That Katherine the Great of Russia regretted all her life she hadn't been born a man. On royal hunts she insisted on wearing men's clothing.

That Tchaikovsky, the Russian composer, was so terrified by electrical storms he would hide from them like a child. While conducting he always supported his chin in his left hand because of a morbid fear his head would literally fall off his shoulders into the orchestra pit.

That many drug stores, in addition to aspirin and insect lotions, also will sell you a short-term life insurance policy to cover you during your vacation.

That national defense costs the U.S. about $15,000 a minute.

That a poll showed 62 per cent of American men believe men are more moderate in their habits than women. Only 45 per cent of the women agreed!

That some humming birds weigh less than a penny.

That during prohibition New York City had more speakeasies than it had saloons in the days before Volstead put the cork in the bottle.

That in the time it takes you to read this piece, 25 babies will be born in America, unless you read with your lips in which case the figure may be 50.

That Inch Avenue in Parsons, Kan., is one block long.

That a good safety rule to remember on Independence Day is:

"He who goes forth with a fifth on the Fourth may not come forth on the fifth."

That your chances of getting a heart attack are increased by about 50 per cent if you are considerably overweight and by 70 per cent if you suffer from chronic hypertension. So, slow down now.

That if you've been wondering about the big influx of foreign movie stars to this country, here is the reason: They spell box office in the lands of their birth. Half of Hollywood's revenue today is from the foreign market.

That cockroaches migrate just like birds, but the rascals do it in stealthy night marches.

That psychiatrists rate Nero a psychopath, Cesare Borgia a paranoiac, but classify Genghis Khan as a true genius.

That it was Kin Hubbard who observed: "Being optimistic after you've got what you want don't count."

Stroke Less Fearful
If It Is Understood

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ALL OF YOU, I'm sure, have heard a good deal about strokes. Most of what you have heard has been quite alarming, and a great many of you have come to regard strokes with a terrible fear.

I don't want you to fear them, but I am sure your doctor wants you to respect them and the diseases which often culminate in a stroke.

Preventive Treatment

For while we cannot prevent the majority of strokes, we can treat some of the conditions causing cerebral vascular (heart and blood) diseases, and this treatment may help prevent strokes.

Moreover, in some cases there are fairly definite signs which warn of an impending stroke. If we heed them in time, we may be able to head it off.

A stroke generally occurs very suddenly. It's caused by the interruption in the flow of blood to the brain. Perhaps an artery ruptures or is blocked by a blood clot, spasm or some form of pressure.

Disability Remains

When this happens, the victim may suffer paralysis of a leg and arm and may also develop difficulty in speaking. While these symptoms sometimes clear up rather quickly, usually some form of physical disability remains.

Thus, it's much better to try to prevent strokes from occurring whenever we can.

High blood pressure, for example, often is associated with strokes. With our modern drugs and techniques we can help the majority of persons with high blood pressure, providing they give us a chance to help them. Often such treatment helps prevent these persons from suffering strokes.

As I have already explained, some conditions associated with formation of blood clots frequently are climaxed by strokes. In some of these cases there are certain signs which precede a stroke. These include brief attacks of weakness, numbness or visual trouble.

Averting Stroke

Through the use of anti-clotting drugs we might be able to avert the impending stroke.

Small blood clots formed in the heart are a frequent cause of strokes among young persons. Generally, these clots form as a result of rheumatic heart disease or a bacterial infection in the lining of the heart.

We can either prevent or successfully treat both of these conditions in the majority of cases, thus eliminating the threat of a stroke.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. C. J.: I have been reading that certain antibiotics help the growth of animals. Do you think they might promote growth in infants and children?

Answer: Certain studies have shown some increase in growth in children with the use of the antibiotic drugs. However, because of the side effects from these drugs in humans, their use for such purpose would not be advisable.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

The Russians are keeping a lot of beef off the market in order to build up the Soviet Union's cattle herds—Moscow news item. Maybe the Russians are planning to make some TV westerns.

Somebody once stated—"Forty million Frenchmen can't be wrong." If that's so—what in the devil are they arguing about?

At long last, Soviet television is running advertisements. Must be pretty rough going—sitting through a commercial, sung in Russian.

A dog house built for his canine pet by a Kansan has wall-to-wall carpeting, a heating lamp and complete insulation. What?—no miniature backyard garden in which to bury bones?

In Ceylon a riot over the respective merits of the Tamil and Sinhalese languages resulted in many casualties. Now, THERE'S a war of words in which folk get hurt!

Two Oxford students fought a duel by popping champagne bottles.

et, where men bought women for their harems, they did not measure them, as though for a shroud, although they might have looked into their mouths to see whether their teeth were still there, or is that the way a horse is bought?

One thing omitted from these measurements is the size of the hand. It strikes me that if a girl is to carry a load of victuals on a tray or otherwise, she must have a powerful pair of hands, or does a waitress no longer need strength, only fortitude?

We have moved far from the modesty of an older generation when legs were called limbs and when the sight of a female ankle sent shivers up the spine of a gangling youngster. We have moved very far from that, but in what direction? That is really the question.

A young lady once asked me whether I believed in progress, and I was forced to reply, "in what direction?" A wise man, perhaps one of the wisest, said to me recently, "All political parties have disappeared all over the world. That will produce tyrants. Thus the wheel of life turns, but it is on the same old axle." Is that progress?

It used to be said in World War I that some nations shouted in their own tongues, "Advance! Advance!" as they marched backward. It was not hypocritical. They had merely turned around and therefore backward became "forward march!"

These measurements of a prospective waitress sure started me off.

Craft Unions Reach Accord

C. E. Vanderpool, president of the Tri-State District Council of Carpenters, said an agreement providing a five-cent an hour increase now and an additional five cents in six months was signed Monday.

He said the unions which signed, and their present hourly rate, are the cement finishers $3.25, plasterers $3.40, lathers $3.25, teamsters $2.20, and masons $3.65.

Mother Nature Conspiring To Make Men Obsolete?

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—Let's face it, men. Mother Nature may be conspiring to make us obsolete.

The male of the species may be supplanted by what we can only describe as nasty, sneaking, treacherous little parasites.

Women will have children with positively no help from the opposite sex. All children will be girls, who will be able to have additional children—all girls.

The male will become redundant, unnecessary, a drug on the market, and a nuisance around the house. In due course, since all babies will be female, men will no longer exist.

For the first warning of disaster the men—while they last—are indebted to a Dutchman, A. Stolk, of the Histological Laboratory, Free University, Amsterdam.

Stolk sounded the tocsin in an article in the high-domed British science magazine "Nature." His article is called "Pathological Parthenogenesis In Viviparous Toothcarps."

Sound innocent: Don't be deceived. This is DYNAMITE.

The viviparous toothcarp, as everyone knows, is a fish that gives birth to living young. Parthenogenesis is the development of young from unfertilized eggs.

Stolk was reporting on the strange behavior of three female toothcarps, two of the species Lebistes reticulatus and one of the species Xiphophorus helleri Heckel.

In each case the female was isolated immediately after birth from any contact with male toothcarps. Never ever saw one.

Yet within 18 months the female toothcarps gave birth to 22, 14, and 28 babies respectively—all females.

Stolk concluded that the births resulted from an infection with a fish parasite known as Ichthyophonus hoferi Plehn-Mulso. The tiny intruder provided the artificial stimulus.

Parthenogenesis is nothing new. But Stolk says we have something different here: birth resulting from a natural ailment on the part of the mother. Describing this as "pathological parthenogenesis," he concluded:

"Pathological parthenogenesis may be regarded as a form of artificial parthenogenesis effected not so much by experimental intervention as by nature itself."

There you have it, men. To be sure, it's a long way from a toothcarp to man. May take Eons to climb that evolutionary ladder. But as everyone also knows, Mother Nature has lots of time.

Blondes--and the New Age

By George Sokolsky

I saw an advertisement in "The Washington Post and Times Herald," which marks the new age. It not only evokes the question, "what are we coming to?" It tells us. This is the advertisement:

"Waitresses, blonde. Must be 21 to 35 years old, 5' 4" to 5' 8" tall, 34-24-34, or better. Experience desirable. . ."

Precisely what is the work that a blonde can do that a brunette or a red-head cannot do? Is it a question of decor?

Are waitresses hired because they can carry soup without spilling it down the customer's back or because they blend into the color of the wallpaper?

In this age of science, when man can do everything, any gal with a few extra dollars can be a blonde if she chooses and get a job as a waitress. However, this advertisement does not say what kind of blonde is preferred.

There are as many kinds of blondes as there used to be political parties in France. A natural blonde is very rare indeed and most beautiful when found. A strawberry blonde used to be fashionable when Irish girls still had some of the old world about them. And then there is the mousy, greyish blond who gives an air of humility.

The age range in this advertisement is wide. A girl of 21 nowadays is really a chick; whereas 35 is, for a woman, the approach to middle age. These days, crow's feet can be removed by remedial plastic surgery: hair by electrolysis; character by make-up; and the eyes can be perverted by various devices.

Thus, when the swain gazes into the starlit eyes of his lady love, he cannot tell whether the sparkle is from the soul or from a shot of stuff advertised on TV as the solution of all human problems.

Now, it may appear that one like myself who writes about great subjects, like De Gaulle and Eisenhower and Khrushchev and how to solve the problems of disappearing gold, should not grow excited about waitresses and what a girl is required to be to enter the art of carrying a dish of swiss steak from a kitchen to a table.

But the truth is that it is in small things that one observes the trend of the times and when a female is measured like a horse, it is a kind of evidence that this is an age when externals matter more than the souls of men and women.

Just think what it means to civilization that this slinger of bread puddings and gelatin and such must be 5' 4" to 5' 8" tall, no more or less, and that she must have bodily measurements of "34-24-34 or better." What puzzles me is the "or better."

What is better?

I wonder how many men who have been married to the same wife for years and years know what her measurements are! Even in the Circassian slave market

Mrs. Wash Lough welcomed a most attentive and appreciative audience who listened to Mrs. Everett Rife explain the art of making flower arrangements using dried materials at the open meeting of the Fayette Garden Club in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Mrs. Rife said that the beginning of the use of dried materials dates back to colonial days in this country and that botanists use to preserve plants which they brought from foreign countries by drying them.

The four methods used in preparing materials for use in decorations, she said, are drying, pressing, skelentizing and preserving with a preparation of glycerin and water. Some common materials which anyone may easily obtain are chickweed, dock, bluegrass, thistles, cattails and corn tassels, the speaker stated.

Mrs. Rife displayed beautiful arrangements which she had made using these materials and also magnolia leaves, cockscomb, lemon and canna leaves and leaves from pear and peach trees. She said that fungus makes an interesting material but cautioned that it should be soaked in clorox to kill any worms or insects which it might contain.

Experimentation with any of nature's materials can become a fascinating hobby and one which is rewarding not only to the professional but to the layman as well, Mrs. Rife commented.

Mrs. Lough discussed the making and use of "home made containers" for flower arrangements. She displayed unusual containers, one especially attractive, made from an old wooden clock. Others were made from a glass spoon holder, a footed vase, water goblet, an amber beer bottle, a wooden candle holder and a seashell covered glass jar.

Driftwood makes an interesting accessory and Mrs. Lough explained that in choosing a specimen, it is essential to be certain it is solid. To test for soft spots tap lightly with a hammer. Bake driftwood in an oven for an hour to cure. Bread boards may be cut in different shapes to form bases for arrangements.

A discarded phonograph record makes a very attractive container, Mrs. Lough said. The record is placed in the oven over an ovenware bowl at a temperature of 250 to 300 degrees for one hour. Using gloves, press into the desired shape.

The next meeting will be an evening garden party in the country home of Mrs. Willard Bitzer at 7 p. m. on July 11, at which time Mrs. Mildred Ditzel of the Dayton Power and Light Co. will demonstrate "Garden Lighting for Outdoor Living."

Members are asked to bring suggestions for program material for next year's meetings to this affair.

Punch and cookies were served by Mrs. John Jordan, Mrs. Joe Fortier and Mrs. Herbert Wilson at the close of the meeting.

Construction Industry Feels Better Now

Business Upturn Overcomes Hard Raps Suffered in Slump

By S.M. DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The construction industry is feeling better today after some earlier hard knocks.

Business it's losing in one direction is being made up in another. Right now the gain in construction payrolls is playing a major part in bringing the nation's total of wages and salaries up after months of decline, the Commerce Department reports.

Part of the current upturn is due to better building weather. Credit also is given to easier money, especially in the housing field. But much of the present and most of the potential boost is coming from government spending, federal, state and local.

The good news is:

1. Housing starts have climbed above the annual rate of one million units after touching a low rate of 880,000 in March, the Labor Department reports. The year ago figure was 994,000. The future looks bright because applications for FHA and Veterans Administration guarantees of mortgages have been climbing steadily.

2. Public projects, which now account for more than 30 per cent of all building spending, are 4 per cent above a year ago, with the road building segment up 6 per cent, according to the economists of the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago. The Federal Roads is expected to award two billion dollars in additional contracts in the next few weeks. Spending for post offices and other federal buildings is being stepped up. State and local governments are marketing a record volume of security issues this year, 24 per cent more than a year ago, and most of this money will find its way into construction of such things as schools.

The bad news is:

1. The big spurt in industrial building is over for a time. Up to now 1958 spending for new plants is trailing the like period of last year by 21 per cent. Businessmen are still cutting back on earlier estimates of what they'll spend this year and next. Many industries find they already have built more facilities than present demand justified.

2. Commercial building has slowed some. Yet there is still much activity in erecting offices in major cities, and providing stores and other facilities to serve the new housing developments that went with the big surge of city folk to the suburbs and the growth of new industrial communities in various sections of the nation.

Some builders are counting on help in the final months of the year from two sources. One is easier money that could reactivate some building schemes putting out, a feeling of confidence on the shelf for a while. The other is that if the slump is leveling out, a feeling of confidence could supplant the caution that has ruled much business and consumer thinking in recent months.

Adding up all the plus and minus factors — the gain in spending by governments and home builders against the decline in industrial spending — the Department of Commerce predicts the total construction outlay this year will reach 49½ billion dollars, which would be almost 2½ billion dollars more than last year.

Outdoor cookery was the main discussion when the Scissors Whizzors 4-H Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Walter Hye. The girls were divided into three groups to prepare each meal. They were: (1) Prepare meal and set the table; (2) build and put out the fire; (3) clean up the table and wash dishes.

Devotions entitled "Where Would I Be?" were given by Ruth Ann Arnold.

Eight members answered roll call by giving their favorite song. Reports were made by Carol Hye.

Paula Slagle, Peggy Lininger, Bev Horney, and Reva Fackler

Carol Hye, Ann Waters, Therese Rohde, Karen Thomas and Ruth Ann Arnold were elected to work on the other decorations for the 4-H booth at the Fair.

The group had an out door cookery meal of "hunters stew" Wednesday at the city park. At this meal the group had pictures taken of them for the National 4-H magazine.

Another "Outdoor Cookery" meal — a fish fry — was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Hye.

The meeting was closed by the group standing and repeating the 4-H Pledge.

Outdoor cookery was assigned to the members for the meetings to be held next week.

THIMBLE SISTERS

The Thimble Sisters 4-H club met at the home of Mrs. Lucas last Thursday. The meeting was opened with the 4-H Pledge and a silent prayer.

The main topic of business was our fair booth. No definite idea was decided upon.

Paulette Pennington gave a demonstration on how to put tucks in a blouse.

Refreshments were served by Carolyn Williams.

Lees Creek Ditch Hearing Continued

What was expected to be the final hearing on the proposed improvement of the Lees Creek Ditch Monday afternoon at the commissioners' office in the Court house, was continued again.

After interested landowners had been in session with the commissioners for about an hour, it was agreed that some revised assessments were required. County Engineer Charles Wagner was asked to prepare these and the commissioners announced that the final hearing probably would be held 30 days after the engineer makes his report.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Forty years ago at this time and a little later, Fayette County soldiers were giving their life blood in defense of their country as fighting increased in scope and violence on the Western Front in France, where the Germans and Austrians and the Allied forces were locked in a titanic struggle to the death.

First Fayette Countians engaged fighting the pick of the German army were members of Company M, which was among the first companies enrolled, trained hurriedly and sent overseas to help the British and French stem the German horde.

First soldiers from here had lost their lives in battle and others were wounded. A little later, Company M had 48 casualties, including several killed in a single day. Sgt. Walter Wilson, proprietor of Wilson's Shoe Shop on North Fayette St., was one of those who suffered serious wounds at Chateau Thierry, Corp. Hughey Backenstoe was another. There were others but I do not have their names available.

Sgt. Wilson sustained three machinegun bullet wounds, one of which left him with three gnarled fingers on his left hand where the bullet cut through.

A second wound was through the fleshy part of his back and the third wound was in his left thigh.

He was leading his men through open land at the time, to attract German attention with artillery and machine gun fire, while another part of Company M and others were storming a nearby hill in a surprise attack.

It was a baptism of death as the brave men moved forward amid incessant whine of machine gun bullets and exploding shells.

Time after time they flattened to the earth as the screaming shells approached and machinegun fire became too intense, Sgt. Wilson said.

"I did not know it when I was wounded and continued on. Corp. Backenstoe was near me at the time, and a fragment of shrapnel struck him in the shoulder and ranged downward into his lung. Others sustained various wounds. Some fell never to arise again."

Like most of the veterans who were in some of the worst fighting of the war, Sgt. Wilson is reluctant to talk about his experience.

Company M and others engaged in the battle at Chateau Thierry defeated the Germans, driving them back.

Soon after that most of the German front was being rolled up by the combined assaults of the Americans, British and French.

SILVER "TURNIPS"

A few days ago a man walked into a shop where he knew he could obtain an old fashioned watch and said:

"I would like to look at some turnips".

Without hesitation, the proprietor went to a case and laid out a half dozen large silver watches which were popular 40 to 75 years ago.

"Turnip" was the name applied to that type of watch because of their size and shape, something like a flat turnip. It was not uncommon in the days gone by for one man to ask another: "What time is it by your turnip?"

TIMES HAVE CHANGED!

Recently I talked with J. W. Southard, S. Fayette St., who, some 60 years ago, operated a grocery and "racket" store in Sabina. We discussed changes in the grocery business and things generally since that time.

The venerable former store-keeper and insurance agent recalled that one year he bought and sold 467 bushels of blackberries and more than two carloads of Kelso plums.

He bought the blackberries in eastern Ohio and had most of them sold before they arrived. In a single day, he disposed of more than 100 bushels of the wild blackberries — all going to residents of the community, who wanted them for canning and making wine. They bought up to three bushels at a time.

The two carloads of Kelso plums were shipped to Columbus and sold there.

Southard recalls that when the plums were so abundant nearly everyone in the community had them. One man, he said, brought in a wagonload, loose in the wagon bed, and sold them for 20 cents a bushel.

He recalled that a year or two afterward a severe winter killed nearly all of the Kelso plum trees. They were never replaced.

BUFFALO BILL LIKED VIEW

The story is told that when Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show came to Washington C. H., making the trip overland from Chillicothe more than a half century ago, the famous Indian fighter and showman halted his white horse on top of Bray's Hill east of Frankfort and spent sometime looking over the surrounding country.

"It is one of the most beautiful views I have ever seen," he is quoted as saying.

It was long after the rest of the show had passed through Frankfort headed toward this city that Buffalo Bill rode down the hill and overtook his show.

His love for high places and wonderful views probably is the

Treatment Is Sought For Chronic Alcoholics

CHICAGO — The alcoholic no longer is represented by the figure slouched on a bar stool.

A research study indicates that the nation's 5,000,000 chronic alcoholics are of the hidden type—hidden from recognition by family, friends and supervisors.

The analysis for an encyclopedia shows that alcoholics are hidden by their ability to present a fairly normal appearance of personal and social recognition. Consequently management and labor are enlisting psychiatry and programs built around Alcoholics Anonymous to help discover and treat the addicts among two per cent of the United States' industrial workers.

Flashes Trump Cowboy Crew; Molloy Stars

The Record-Herald Flashes finally overcame some early-season inconsistencies and took their first victory of the new year from the Cowboys Monday night, 10-8, in a Little League feature at Wilson Field.

Though the Flashes won, a Cowboy pitcher and jack-of-all-baseball trades staved a little personal triumph that may be more memorable to some of the fans than the mere fact of who won.

The pitcher is Mike Molloy, and his achievement may well have been to put the first American baseball into orbit. A home run eluded Molloy's deadly bat cleared the outfield wall at Wilson Field by a good 30 feet, and from all indications, may be circling the earth yet.

It was only one of two home runs at the field Monday night, but it was one of the hardest - hit on record there. It compensated for the fact that the Flashes took an easy, clean-cut victory.

Starting out with three runs in the bottom of the first, the Flashes added four more in the second, two in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Cowboys scored in the first, the Flashes added four more in the second, two in the fourth and one in the fifth. The Cowboys scored in the first, the Flashes added four more in the second, two in the fourth and one in the fifth. Each team had seven hits.

Feds Triumph

The First Federal outfit in the Little Minor League won handily over the Chows Monday night, 10-6, but the Thunderbirds and the Loafers had to settle for a 5-3 tie.

Darrell Hixson pitched a clean, stylish ball for the First Federal Crew, holding the team to but three runs until the final inning. Bob Jones had a base-clearing triple that scored two men. Most of the other runs were unearned.

The oncoming little major league game ended the Thunderbird-Loafer game at Wilson Field before it could be finished.

Tim Tam Slated For Operation

PHILADELPHIA — Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Tim Tam undergoes an operation today on the leg he injured while trying and failing to win the third jewel in horse racing's triple crown, the Belmont Stakes.

Before the operation, veterinary surgeons said Tim Tam could be as physically able as he was before suffering a bone chip.

Trainer Jimmy Jones of Calumet Farm said before the operation that Tim Tam would not race again but would be retired to stud.

Bloomington Wins In Tri-County Loop

Bloomington's Babe Ruth League outfit squeezed out the Medics Monday night, 11-10, in an error - happy, loosely played ball game at Rossmann Park.

Sparked with a triple by Smith, the Bloomington outfit took only five hits as compared with eight for the Medics. Bloomington made six errors, but the Medics made eight and gave the winners the edge. Two Bloomington pitchers between them struck out one man and gave up 10 walks.

The Medics jumped off to a two-run lead in the third, and hung on to it until the fifth, when the winners went ahead. Tying the game up in the bottom of the fifth, the Medics could have sent it into overtime if they had extended a last-inning rally just one run further.

Massie, the Medics' pitcher, walked nine men but struck out 11 and scored three runs. Herman and Reno scored two runs each. Smith had three runs for Bloomington, and Redd, two.

Loose Play Marks Babe Ruth Battle At Rossmann Park

Good Hope's outfit in the tri-county Little League took another on the chin Monday night as the Bloomington crew came through for a 6-1 victory on the Bloomington field.

Errors gave the losers trouble again—they made seven this time, and as usual, they were all costly. Good Hope pitching gave up just four hits, and Bloomington's pitchers, only three.

The Bloomington outfit scored in the first, third and the fifth. Good Hope got its only run in the sixth.

Thomas Is Leader In Ohio PGA Test

CINCINNATI — Paul Thomas, shooting a superb two - under-par 67 on the second round, fashioned a 69-67-136 to win medalist honors in the southern Ohio PGA qualifier at Cincinnati Country Club Monday. Thomas, 26, is a professional at Western Hills.

Also qualifying for the national PGA tournament at Havertown, Pa., July 14-20, were Jim Rudolph, 33, and Ock Willoweit, 55, both of Dayton. Rudolph finished four strokes behind Thomas with a 72-68-140. Willoweit finished third with a 70-71-141.

Joseph Dodich of Newark and Paul Schurtz of Ironton tied for fourth with 42 on rounds of 71-71 and 69-73, respectively. In the play-off Dodich won.

The world Champion Milwaukee Braves retained only two rookies after the May 15 cutdown date. They were pitcher Humberto Robinson and outfielder Ed Haas, a returning serviceman.

Ivan Parke, trainer for Maine Chance Farm, was America's leading jockey in 1923 and 1924.

Stokes Is 25 Today, Still in Hospital

CINCINNATI — Maurice Stokes, star rebounder for the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA, observed his 25th birthday today - still only conscious at times as the result of sleeping sickness.

This was Stokes' 95th day in St. Elizabeth Hospital in nearby Covington, Ky. He was stricken late in the 1957-58 basketball season. Royals officials said Stokes is conscious only part of the time.

Sophomore tackles Bob and Bill Benton of the University of Mississippi are sons of Dr. B. H. Benton, pastor of Rosemont Baptist Church in East St. Louis, Ill.

Johnny Bower, goal tender of the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League, has been voted the league's most valuable player for the last three seasons.

Vic Powers To Don New Tribe Uniform

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Indians open a three - game series with the New York Yankees here tonight and Vic Powers is expected to make his debut in a Tribe uniform.

Power, a first baseman, and outfielder Woody Held were obtained by the Indians in a five - player trade with the Kansas City Athletics Sunday, but Held is not expected to arrive in time for tonight's game.

Manager Bobby Bragan plans to use Power at first base and bench Mickey Vernon, the Tribe's leading hitter at .65. The 40-year-old Vernon was purchased originally to give the club bench strength, but has been alternating at first with Preston Ward due to the absence of Vic Wertz, who suffered a broken ankle in spring training.

Ward, who also played third base, went to Kansas City in Sunday's trade along with outfielder Roger Maris and pitcher Dick Tomaneck.

Held will be assigned to center field, replacing Maris, but until he arrives, Larry Doby or Gary Geiger will be in center Doby's injured shoulder showed considerable improvement over the weekend.

Power, a dangerous hitter, has added 60 points to his batting average in the last three weeks and is currently hitting .311. He has hit safely in his last 22 games.

Richard W. Gano of Sale Lake City is the 45th president of the American Bowling Congress.

Mt. Logan Study Now Under Way

Survey Being Made In 6-County District

At the request of the board of trustees of the Mt. Logan Sanatorium, special representatives of the Ohio Health Department and of the Ohio TB and Health Assn., are making a special survey through the six counties of the district which maintain the sanatorium at Chillicothe.

These representatives, Mrs. Muir, nursing consultant of the State Health Department, and Miss Dee Hawk, field representative for the Ohio TB and Health Assn., held a two hour conference Tuesday morning with the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

They also planned to interview officials of the county Health Department and members of the county medical society.

The objective of the survey is to determine policy, procedure, finances available for handling tuberculosis cases and the TE potential in the local communities which the sanatorium serves, together with other facts for the Mt. Logan trustees to make plans for that institution's future.

In Fayette County, the investigators learned from the commissioners, there is no pressing problem at this time. The county has a quota of 12 beds in Mt. Logan but has only four patients in the institution now.

Other counties in the district are Ross, Highland, Pike, Jackson and Scioto. It was said that some of these have some problems which may have a bearing on the future of Mt. Logan Sanatorium.

The trustees of Mt. Logan are seeking to get an overall picture throughout the district and probably will issue a general report about which all the boards of commissioners in the six counties, and the health departments, will be advised.

Hospital Air Conditioning Program Advanced by Board

Another step toward installation of modern air-conditioning in the Memorial Hospital here was taken at the regular monthly meeting of its board of trustees at the hospital Monday evening.

The entire maternity division, including nursery, delivery room and all its bedrooms, and the surgical division, including operating rooms and adjacent corridors, are included in this step of the plan.

A start was made last year when air-conditioning was put in the central area of the hospital.

The board, with all members present, adopted a resolution to proceed with this work at once. The cost, estimated at $6,255, is to be paid in part from contributions of money now in the hospital's trust fund for that special purpose.

WHILE THERE is not enough specified for that purpose in the fund, the hospital trustees decided to begin the work at once and trust that the general public, including organizations and individuals throughout the county, will make enough contributions for this first step and possibly sufficient more to enough to proceed soon with air conditioning other parts of the institution.

The units for this work are reported to be available now and the installation work is expected to be started at once.

The board also announced that those who make donations will be properly and permanently credited for this help with plaques placed in appropriate places.

A LETTER from the Board of Commissioners of the national Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals was received by Memorial Hospital here, approving the recommendation that Fayette County Memorial Hospital be accredited for the next three years, or until a subsequent survey is conducted.

This is the result of an evaluation of the hospital here conducted last April by Dr. Peter D. Ward, field representative of the national joint commission. It was announced that a certificate of the accreditation will be sent at once.

The report on the survey of the hospital listed a few minor recommendations for adjustments, some of which already have been put in operation.

The letter from the Commission commended the hospital for its maintenance of standards, deserving the accreditation, and for the hospital's constant efforts to improve the quality of patient care.

This nationally recognized commission is composed of the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Assn., the American Medical Assn., and the Canadian Medical Assn.

A copy of the accreditation was also sent to the Fayette County Medical Society.

WHILE THE board was in session it also approved bills and the 1959 hospital budget of $529,110 after a few minor changes were made in it.

The monthly operating report, submitted by Miss Christine Evans, administrator, was approved.

The report showed for the month of May total admissions 323 and in addition 68 infants born in the hospital.

A total of 2,283 days of patient service was given and in addition service to 642 out-patients.

The largest number of patients on any one day was 88, the lowest number for a like period was 56.

There were 63 major surgical operations performed in May and 67 minor.

Laboratory examinations for the month numbered 3,181 and X-ray films made 851.

The hospital laundry turned out 42,738 pounds of work and a total of 9,151 meals were served.
